

Yujing Hu

Research Associate

Urban Education Leaders Collaborative

Teachers College Columbia University

Ms. Yujing Hu is the research associate for Urban Education Leaders Collaborative at Teachers College, Columbia University. She holds a master degree in International Educational Development from Teachers College, Columbia University, and she received her bachelor degree with a double major in International Studies and Natural Resources from University of Wisconsin – Stevens Point. Prior to her current role, Yujing worked as a graduate research assistant and case writer for the Urban Education Leaders Program while she was a graduate student at Teachers College. She also served as an English Teacher at rural Thailand before she moved to New York for her graduate studies. Being born and raised in China, Yujing has had education experiences in U.S.A., Finland, Germany and Thailand, and her passion towards intercultural educational exchange inspires her to explore the urban education context through a different global lens.